Review of Operations

The Company has focussed on progressing its iron ore license applications in Kenya. The Company also continued to review a number of advanced exploration and development opportunities in Africa.

The Company's license applications in Kenya are in the process of being granted. The Department of Mines and Geology has responded to the objectors and the Company has engaged in dialogue with several of the stakeholders involved. The approvals process in Kenya includes a period of gazetting and public comment. The Company is hopeful that the Taita-Taveta Iron Project will be granted in 2009.

Site investigations at the Company's Taita-Taveta licenses located in the south of Kenya confirmed the presence of extensive iron ore mineralisation. The area contains both alluvial / eluvial deposits and primary mineralisation derived from banded iron formations. Initial work programmes will focus on identifying the extent of the iron formations.

In Uganda the Company continues to assess its gold, copper and uranium projects. The Company is awaiting release of geophysical data covering the Company's licenses from the Department of Geological Survey and Mines to enable generation of targets within the project areas. Field visits by the Department of Geological Survey and Mines of Uganda (DGSM) in areas surrounding the Company's 100% owned Karamoja Project have confirmed the presence of copper mineralisation in the area. In particular copper, nickel, iron and manganese anomalies were reported in stream sediment and geochemical sampling in the district.
